
JANUARY UPDATE

We now have further information on the status of the QPR Planning Application.

Firstly, we are advised by Jonathan Kirby (Deputy Director of Major Projects, LBE) that the information contained in the letter from Messrs. Savills, and as reported in the January newsletter, was incorrect and/or misleading. This letter wrongly indicated that the consultation period started on the 21st December, which, with the Christmas/New Year close-down, would have left us with very little time to view, digest and comment upon the proposals.

It has now been confirmed to us that the statutory consultation period actually commenced on 2nd January, and that we have until 25th January to comment.

We have requested that Mr. Kirby relays our displeasure to Savills, as the manner in which they communicated this misinformation has caused stress and despondency to WFRF members, local residents and other interested parties.

The planning application can be viewed at the LBE website. At the moment, only an outline of the details is available, however all documents, including drawings, will be uploaded to the website in the next few days.

You can view the application on the following link :-

The Case Officer at LBE is Mr. Peter Lee, who has been very helpful. Viewing the details in person at the council offices normally entails queuing for a long time at the front entrance of Perceval House, however Mr. Lee will be arranging an appointment to enable us to bypass the queue at the side entrance. We obviously cannot expect them to extend this to large numbers of club members, however a delegation from WFRF will be visiting Perceval House, probably next week.

If you are available, and would like to attend, please contact Bob Howard.
